

Dr. Ryan Fedeler

Dr. Ryan grew up on his family's acreage in Madison, South Dakota where the family raised sheep and cattle. Ryan was also extensively involved in 4-H and FFA.

Ryan's areas of interest are wellness care, internal medicine, soft tissue surgery, small ruminant medicine (sheep and goats), and general livestock medicine.

He attended undergraduate school at South Dakota State University receiving a bachelor's degree in Microbiology. He received his doctorate in veterinary medicine from Iowa State University College of Veterinary Medicine in 2010.

He practiced at Tyndall Veterinary Clinic in Tyndall, South Dakota for three years as a mixed animal veterinarian. There he practiced cow-calf and feedlot medicine as well as caring for dogs and cats.

He is married to Dr. Jacci. Together they have two wonderful boys (Jaxon and Bradyn), and an acreage with sheep, horses, donkeys, cats, and dogs. Outside of the clinic he enjoys spending time with his two boys, working on their sheep herd, improving their acreage, hunting, softball, and golfing.
